DEFINITIONS

The FLUKA software (FLUKA) means the fully integrated particle physics Monte Carlo simulation software package being developed since 1989, available from the official FLUKA website <http://www.fluka.org> and authorised mirror sites. FLUKA includes FLUKA core code, FLUKA User Routines (as defined below), and the Flair user interface.

FLUKA User Routines means the set of subroutines collected in the usermvax section of FLUKA and forming part of the standard distribution of FLUKA.

The Licensee means any person acting individually within a non-profit organisation, exercising any permission granted by this license.

LICENSE GRANT

¹Creation date and last modification date of each routine are indicated in the source code

1. Subject to the terms and conditions of this license, the FLUKA Copyright Holders herewith grant to the Licensee a worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free, source and object code license to use and reproduce FLUKA for internal scientific non commercial non-military purposes only. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Licensee shall not execute FLUKA in a manner that produces an output whose contents are directly useable or easily employable to simulate the physics models embedded within FLUKA in a generic manner, or excise portions of FLUKA source or object code, and execute them independently of FLUKA. Extracting specific isolated results from any of the individual internal physics models embedded within FLUKA is not permitted. Permitted use and reproduction are referred to below as "Use".
2. Modification (including translation) of FLUKA, in whole or in part, is not permitted, except for modification of FLUKA User Routines that do not circumvent, replace, add to or modify any of the functions of the FLUKA core code. Permitted modifications are referred to below as "Modifications".
3. FLUKA is licensed for Use by the Licensee only, and the Licensee shall not market, distribute, transfer, license or sub-license, or in any way make available ("Make Available") FLUKA or Modifications, in whole or in part, to third parties, without prior written permission. The Licensee shall not assign or transfer this license.
4. Notwithstanding section 3, the Licensee may Make Available his Modifications of FLUKA User Routines to third parties under these license conditions.
5. The Licensee shall not insert FLUKA code or Modifications, in whole or in part, into other codes without prior written permission.
6. The Licensee shall not reverse engineer, decompile, decrypt, disassemble or otherwise attempt to derive the source code from the FLUKA binary code or FLUKA data libraries (except as and only to the extent that any foregoing restriction is prohibited by Law).
7. Any use of FLUKA outside the scope of this license is subject to prior written permission.
8. The Licensee shall report as soon as practical any errors or bugs found in any portion of FLUKA to `fluka-discuss@fluka.org`

PUBLICATIONS AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

9. The Licensee shall explicitly acknowledge his use of FLUKA in any publication or communication, scientific or otherwise, relating to such use, by citing the FLUKA set of references (<http://www.fluka.org>²) and the FLUKA copyright notice.
10. The Licensee shall ensure that the FLUKA set of references, the FLUKA copyright notice and these license conditions are not altered or removed from FLUKA and that all embodiments of FLUKA and Modifications contain in full the FLUKA set of references, the FLUKA copyright notice, and these license conditions.
11. Any insertion of FLUKA code or Modifications, in whole or in part, into other codes with permission under section 5 shall preserve the FLUKA set of references, the FLUKA copyright notice and these license conditions in the FLUKA code or Modifications concerned, and must also reproduce these within any additional global notices included along or embedded within the software into which the FLUKA code or the Modifications have been integrated, in whole or in part. Any part of the FLUKA code or Modifications so inserted shall continue to be subject to these license conditions.
12. Publication of any results of comparisons of specific internal physics models extracted from FLUKA with permission under section 6 with data or with other codes or models is subject to prior written permission.
13. Contributions to any formal code comparisons and validation exercises pertaining to FLUKA, sponsored by recognised bodies or within the framework of recognised conferences and workshops, are subject to prior written permission.
